

HOPE in HOLLAND 2012

Francois van der Sanden is a teacher of a primary school for children with a speech- or language disorder. The school is named Martinus van Beekschool and is located in Oss. Francois studied for teacher primary school in Nijmegen. From april 2002 untill august 2008 Francois was teacher at a local school near Nijmegen. In August 2008 he made the transfer to the Martinus van Beekschool in Oss to teach children with special needs. During his first two years at that school he followed Masterprogramms at Windesheim in Zwolle. Together with Jolanda van Hoeij he started last Januar a project for social media for children at the Martinus van Beekschool. The project learns children how to use social media and internet in a save way

